Dear NYA Community,

I am writing to share with you the difficult decision I have recently made. It is with a sense of reticence that I have submitted a letter of resignation to Ben Jackson and Marissa Markonish, effective at the end of this current school year.

While social distancing at home, I have recently learned that my husband's chronic health issues have become more severe. Coupled with the threat of the Covid-19, I have decided that my priority needs to be enjoying the time with my husband now, and not some hypothetical time in the future.

This decision is not what I would have envisioned back in February. I will certainly miss working with the students and teachers, and getting to know the NYA families and other staff members. I hold you all in the highest esteem; I have felt privileged to be among you this year, and have enjoying sharing, teaching, and learning together!

I hope you all move together strongly and in good health, and may brighter days be ahead.

Sincerely,

Margery
