

A RECORD BREAKING YEAR

In a year of record-breaking giving to NYA, there are several highlights to note:

NYA Receives Largest Gift in School History

NYA announced plans for a $6,000,000 project to modernize the Travis Roy Ice Arena and build a Fitness & Wellness Center. The Academy secured the largest gift in the school history, $4,000,000, from the Daniel family to support this facility.

“At NYA, teamwork and the benefits of an active lifestyle are emphasized in the classroom, through athletics, and beyond,” said Trustee Frederique Daniel. “With our gift, we hope students will continue to pursue healthy, active lifestyles, individually and with their teammates, with all the resources they need right at their fingertips. This new facility will be the epicenter for athletics, recreation, health, and wellness on campus.”

Nearly $1,000,000 in Support for the Endowment

This year, generous benefactors committed nearly one million dollars in support of the NYA endowment. Endowment funds ensure the Academy can attract and retain talented students and faculty, as well as grow academic, athletic, co-curricular, and character-building programs.

“By growing the endowment, we are working to secure in perpetuity financial support for NYA’s strategic priorities and ongoing operations.”

— Ben Jackson, Head of School

LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT

Greetings from NYA,

During the fiscal year July 1, 2021–June 30, 2022, more than 500 NYA alumni, families, and friends set new records for both overall giving and participation. This inspiring show of support helped the Academy to enhance the student experience, offer more need-based financial aid to talented students, continue with campus improvement plans, and allowed faculty to creatively adapt their teaching and learning in response to ever-changing global circumstances.

Last year, NYA students found success in classrooms, on the athletic fields, in their college searches, and created innovative work in disciplines including theater, art, and music.

We are exceptionally grateful to every community member whose support—in the form of time, energy, connection, or philanthropy—makes the transformative NYA experience possible. Your generosity impacts life on campus every day.

On behalf of all of us at NYA, thank you for investing in NYA and for being part of our community.

With appreciation,

—Jennifer Richard P’29, P’31, P’33
NYA Director of Development
